APPROACH BEING TESTED

As part of a comprehensive company-wide approach to social sustainability, building on their experience in the City of Vancouver's original Hey Neighbour Pilot Project, Concert has hired a dedicated Social Sustainability Coordinator. This Coordinator works with "Resident Ambassadors" to support and deliver design-informed social programming. Concert is adapting its approach to include small-scale and remote social activities focused on building social capital and improving the lives of the people who live and work in Concert's communities
