

WHAT YOU CAN CONTRIBUTE

WHAT COMES BACK

- Outreach and communication with residents
- Access to amenity spaces
- Permissions
- Honoraria for resident leaders or budget for resident activities
- See also Guide 2: Landlord- and Housing Operator-led Approaches to Growing Community in Multi-unit Housing

- External funding and resources of partners
- Ability to bring in diverse skills, expertise, and services

- Specialized program or service expertise
- Program facilitation
- Program resources

- Ability to engage with less accessible multi-housing residents and target populations.

- Specialized program or service expertise
- Navigation of bylaws and opportunities for support or funding
- Access to government resources

- Ability to engage with less accessible multi-housing residents and target populations
- Enhanced community resilience.

- Leadership, organizing, volunteer community building
- Outreach and engagement with neighbours

- Greater diversity of activities, events, services.
- More and more diverse connections to other residents and the broader community.

WHAT COMES BACK

- Develop more well-rounded understandings of the needs and interests of residents
- Increased resources
- Expanded capacity